

R. B. HAYES IS DEAD.

THE EX-PRESIDENT STRICKEN VERY
SUDDENLY.Though Suffering Slightly, He Immediately
Died at His Home in Fremont, O., Jan. 17.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 18.—Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock last night. Early in the evening an inquiry elicited the response that the general had passed a fairly well day and was resting nicely this evening. The change from better to worse was rapid and at 11 o'clock the distinguished ex-president passed away. The first intelligence of this was received when Webb C. Hayes came down town and quietly announced that his father had just died.

After his retirement from the White House March 4, 1881, ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes was heard of but seldom. Occasionally he attended a Grand Army reunion, and he was a prominent figure at the Columbian celebration and banquet in New York city Oct. 12-14, 1892.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

He was always present at the annual meetings of the board of trustees of the Peabody fund, of which all ex-presidents are members. But beyond these modest functions Mr. Hayes remained in absolute retirement at his home in Fremont, O., up to the time of his death. Mr. Hayes' career furnished one of the most interesting chapters in the political history of the United States.

He was born in Delaware, O., Oct. 4, 1822, his father having died the preceding July. He was graduated with honor from Kenyon college, Ohio, in August, 1843, attended Harvard law school for a little over a year, and was admitted to the bar in 1846. In November, 1846, his health being somewhat impaired, he went to Texas for the winter, and after a period of unsettlement located in Cincinnati the next winter. In civil cases his practice was not very large, but he won considerable reputation as a prosecutor in criminal cases and gained the friendship of such men as Salmon P. Chase, Thomas Ewing, Thomas Corwin, Monroe D. Conway and Stanley Matthews.

On Dec. 30, 1852, he married Miss Lucy Ware Webb, daughter of Dr. James Webb, a physician of high standing in Chillicothe. Of their eight children four sons and one daughter reached maturity. Mrs. Hayes was noted for her devotion to sick and wounded soldiers during the war, and for her temperance and public charities in peace. Her refusal to have wine served in the White House during her stay there gave her a world wide fame, and for this action she received many testimonials of esteem both from Europe and America.

Under the first call for troops by President Lincoln the literary club of which Mr. Hayes was a member organized a company, and he was elected captain, and on the 7th of June following the governor of Ohio commissioned him major of the Twenty-third regiment Ohio infantry.

He was judge advocate for a short time, was commissioned lieutenant colonel Oct. 24, 1861, and greatly distinguished himself at the battle of South Mountain, Oct. 14, 1862, where he was severely wounded. Soon after he became colonel of the regiment, and as such particularly distinguished himself in many movements and battles. He led a desperate charge on Cloyd mountain, and at the first battle of Winchester won the applause of the whole army. But it was at the battle of the Wilderness, Sept. 18, 1864, that he won immortal honors.

There he led an assault across a morass, and his horse having mired he charged on foot, and though but forty or fifty men followed so close as to keep up with him this squad captured a battery which had been deemed perfectly secure. Again at Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek he performed prodigies of valor. His commission as brigadier general soon arrived, and on March 13, 1865, he was made brevet brigadier general "for gallant and distinguished services." In the meantime he had been elected to congress from a Cincinnati district.

In 1876 he was nominated by the Republicans for governor of Ohio, and was elected. No question of that era excited more astonishment. The state had long been overwhelmingly Republican, the majorities ranging above 40,000 for some years, yet at the first election after the soldiers came home, with a phenomenally large vote, the highly honored general had less than 3,000 majority over Allen G. Thurman, and the legislature was carried by the Democrats. That body chose Judge Thurman for the United States senate.

Governor Hayes was re-elected in 1889, this time by over 7,000 majority. He had now become the exponent of advanced "hard money" views, and on the platform of prompt resumption he made his third campaign for governor in 1892, receiving about 5,000 majority after a campaign of almost unprecedented vigor on both sides. In the meantime he had run for congress in 1878 and been defeated by some 1,500 majority, and had in 1873 retired from public life and settled at Fremont, O. Soon after he came into possession of the large estate of his uncle, Silas Birchard, which further confirmed him in his resolution to lead a private life, and he only yielded in 1875 to the most earnest solicitations of the Republicans.

Of his presidential campaign in 1876 little need be said. His usual "kick of getting there by very narrow margins" followed him.

AN EPIDEMIC.

Cass County, Iowa, Excited Over an Outbreak of Smallpox.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 17.—Residents of Cumberland and vicinity in the southern part of Cass county are greatly excited over an outbreak of smallpox in a malignant form, which was not recognized until scores of persons had been exposed. A young German immigrant brought the disease to the home of Henry Borchers in a bundle of clothing. The bundle was opened by Borchers' little girl, who was taken sick and died. Borchers and another member of the family have also died and two others are very sick. The family was attended by Dr. Murphy of Cumberland, who failed to diagnose the case properly.

The true disease became known when a German girl, who came over with the young man, revealed the fact that there were cases of smallpox on board the ship Solar on which they came to New York, and that they had been quarantined. At the close of the quarantine period, according to her story, the immigrants were instructed to throw their luggage overboard. The young man secreted his small bundle of clothing and brought it ashore, and with it the disease germs. The state board of health has taken active measures to combat further outbreak. But many have been exposed and great fatality is anticipated. The residents of Cumberland, when they learned of Dr. Murphy's error, were highly indignant, and threats of lynching were freely made.

BLAINE'S DISEASE.

Its Nature Withheld from the Public by Request of the Family.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Mr. Blaine's disease remains a mystery to all but the family and the attending physicians. The latter decline, without the express authority of the family, to divulge the nature of the complaint which has now kept their patient continuously in bed for seven or eight weeks, with constantly diminishing strength and frequent "sinking spells," threatening immediate dissolution. Mr. Blaine has at various times in recent years been treated by physicians other than those in immediate attendance upon him at the present time. In the list are: Dr. N. Lincoln, one of the most popular consulting physicians in Washington; Dr. G. S. Magruder, a Washington physician; Dr. Dennis St. John, of New Harbor, and others. Not one of these gentlemen is able to state the nature of Mr. Blaine's organic disease. One of them, however, said that he had once prepared an intelligible bulletin as to Mr. Blaine's condition, but was peremptorily requested to withhold it from publication. He added: "The real nature of Mr. Blaine's illness was probably only made known when the certificate of the health office is made public, and I fear that will occur before long."

Harris, whereby Mr. Waggoner will retire from the canvass for the United States senatorship in the interest of Colonel Harris, and he will in a few days publicly announce his withdrawal from the fight. A conference was held here a couple of days ago between Mr. Waggoner and one of the most trusted lieutenants of Colonel Harris, and it is given out that sufficient pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. Waggoner to induce him to retire from the contest and that the public announcement of the fact is only withheld from considerations of policy.

Fifty Were Killed. LONDON, Jan. 17.—A dispatch to the Central News from St. Paul de Loanda, says: "A train crowded with Europeans and natives was halted on the Congo railway near Matidi recently and the engine was detached to join a wagon loaded with four boxes of dynamite and eighty-two cases of gunpowder. The engine moved down grade with great speed and collided with the wagon exploding the dynamite. Fifty persons were killed including Le Queque, head of the Societe Anonyme Belge."

Wyoming's Legislature. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 13.—The feature in the senate yesterday was the fight by Senator Kabis of Laramie county to elect John F. Cooke of Johnson county instead of Senator Tisdale, Republican, who, it is claimed, has since his election removed to Salt Lake City. The matter is still pending. In the house a committee on elections was appointed consisting of two Populists, two Republicans and one Democrat. At 2 o'clock the house and senate met in joint session to listen to Governor Osborne's first message as governor of the state of Wyoming.

LUMPY JAW CURABLE.

THE REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.Dr. Salmon's Reports of the Experiments of the Bureau with a Remedy for Actinomyces—Successfully Treated—The Disease is Not Contagious.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Secretary Rusk has received from Dr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, a report of the experiments and investigations being made in Chicago in the treatment of lumpy jaw for actinomyces, or "lumpy jaw."

The report concludes that the remedy tried, iodide of potassium, is a remarkable success, 88 per cent. of cattle there treated have been cured. The greater part of these were very seriously affected when taken for treatment. The report shows the cost of treatment to be trifling by comparison with the results, and it is also proved that the disease is not contagious, twenty-one head of healthy cattle having been confined in close quarters with the diseased for several months without showing any signs of being infected.

The report severely arraigns the live stock commissioners of the state of Illinois for what it regards as arbitrary and inconsistent rulings by which grave losses have been inflicted upon stock owners seeking a market for their stock in Chicago. Animals have been confined without proper appraisement and the owners have not received fair compensation for the carcasses. Dr. Salmon charges, moreover, unjustifiable enterprise on the part of the commissioners with the experiments of the bureau.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 17.—An investigation into the affairs of the Lead's Improvement and Loan company, the Sioux City Land company and the American Trust and Security company, which failed because of the filing of attachments two weeks ago with liabilities of $750,000, has probably resulted in so far disclosures are very favorable to the creditors and it is believed now that when a 25 per cent. assessment which the stockholders of the American company have agreed to pay in full, the creditors will be paid off dollar for dollar.
